Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b) (application filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The patent term adjustment to date is 28 days. If the issue fee is paid on the date that is three months after the mailing date of this notice and the patent issues on the Tuesday before the date that is 28 weeks (six and a half months) after the mailing date of this notice, the term adjustment will be 28 days.

If a continued prosecution application (CPA) was filed in the above-identified application, the filing date that determines patent term adjustment is the filing date of the most recent CPA.

Applicant will be able to obtain more detailed information by accessing the Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system. (<http://pair.uspto.gov>)

Notice of Fee Increase on January 1, 2003

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after January 1, 2003, then the amount due will be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" since there will be an increase in fees effective on January 1, 2003. See Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees for Fiscal Year 2003; Final Rule, 67 Fed. Reg. 70847, 70849 (November 27, 2002).

The current fee schedule is accessible from: <http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>.

If the issue fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due," but not the correct amount in view of the fee increase, a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) due form is to be filed on or after January 1, 2003 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after January 1, 2003), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously paid issue fee should be paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, Section 1308.01 (Eighth Edition, August 2001).

Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at (703) 305-8283.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Marc A. Rossi on 7/17/03.

The application has been amended as follows:

- In line 11 of claim 1 the phrases "of the primary" and "and the secondary shaft" have been deleted to provide less confusing wording;
- In line 3 of claim 2 the phrase "belt-type" has been deleted;
- In line 7 of claim 10 the phrase "in contact with" has been changed to --provided on--.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With regard to claim 1, Neuman et al. fail to show or suggest the limitation of the first inwardly facing side being located closer to the primary or secondary pulley. If in another interpretation the Examiner considered the first outwardly facing side to be in the position of the first inwardly facing side, then the Neuman et al. reference would fail to show the limitation of the bearing retainer outlined in red being provided on the first outwardly facing side. Also, even if the unnumbered nut adjacent to the left side of the first bearing were considered to be the bearing retainer in the alternate interpretation set forth above, the Neuman et al. reference would fail to show the limitation of the bearing retainer engaging the first bearing to pinch the first bearing against the first flange. With regard to claim 10, Neuman et al. fail to show or suggest the limitation of the inwardly facing side surface of the bearing being located closer to the primary or secondary pulley. If in another interpretation the Examiner considered the outwardly facing side surface of the bearing to be in the position of the inwardly facing side surface of the bearing, then the Neuman et al. reference would fail to show the limitation of the urging member outlined in purple being provided on the inwardly facing side surface of the bearing.

With regard to claim 1, US Patent 5997430 to Tanabe fails to show the limitation of a bearing retainer being provided on the outwardly facing side of the end wall and fails to show the limitation of a first cover (an element distinct from the housing end wall). With regard to claim 10, Tanabe fails to show or suggest the limitation of an urging member specifically being elastically deformable and the limitation of a cover (an element distinct from the housing end wall) engaging the bearing. It is clear that the inwardly facing side surface of the end wall of Tanabe engages the bearing. It would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have modified the Tanabe reference to have added a cover and to have modified the transmission to provide the cover instead of the housing end wall in engaging contact with the bearing.

With regard to claim 1, commonly assigned US Patent 6461269 to Tonohata et al. cannot be used in a 102(e) rejection since it fails to show or suggest the limitation of a bearing retainer. With regard to claim 10, the Tonohata et al. reference fails to show or suggest the limitation of an elastically deformable urging member and a cover engaging a bearing to pinch the bearing axially inwardly against the urging member.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
